

LPAA FOCUS ON TRANSPORT

DECEMBER 3rd, 2015 • 10:00-13:00

BLUE ZONE • OBSERVER ROOM 12

ORGANIZED BY: Paris Process on Mobility and Climate (PPMC) (Michelin Challenge Bibendum and the Partnership on Sustainable Low Carbon Transport (SLoCat))

Transport accounts for around a quarter of energy-related emissions (i.e. ~15% of global GHG emissions), with road transport being responsible for almost 80%. Transport is still almost totally dependent on fossil fuels (96%) and accounts for 60% of global oil use. According to most projections, without major changes transport emissions would continue to increase in the next decades, resulting from growing demand in people mobility and freight transport, especially in the developing world. This is not compatible with a less than a 2°C scenario.

This Focus on Transport will bring attention to the large shift that is required and has now started on all fronts.

Most transport initiatives focus on mitigation, but adaptation is not forgotten. Four key areas have the greatest need to change 'transport as usual': urban mobility, road vehicles, freight transport and aviation.

Moderator:

Simon Upton, Environment Director, OECD

State and non-state actors aim to at least 20% of all road transport vehicles to be electrically powered by 2030.

Session I: Setting the Scene

10:00-10:10 WELCOME AND INTRODUCTION

- Ségolène Royal, Minister of Ecology, Sustainable Development and Energy, France

10:10-10:30 BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON CURRENT GLOBAL TRANSPORT LANDSCAPE AND PROSPECTIVE TRENDS

This session will demonstrate the need and opportunities for deep and forward-looking transformations of people mobility and freight transport. Making a positive economic case out of the needed disruptions is a must.

- José Viegas, Secretary General, International Transport Forum
- Hanne Bjurstrøm, Minister, Special Envoy for Climate Change, Norway
- Juan Pablo Bonilla, Chief Advisor to the Executive Vice-President, Inter-American Development Bank

Session II: Taking Action

10:30-10:50 TRANSPORT'S ADAPTATION TO CLIMATE CHANGE

The Transport sector will increasingly need to adapt to climate changes. The moderator will engage representatives from emerging initiatives with a dedicated focus on the resilience from the road, maritime and waterborne infrastructure sectors.

- Manuel Pulgar Vidal, Minister for the Environment, Peru – COP20 President
- Pasi Hellman, Managing Director, Nordic Development Fund

Expression of support: Geoffroy Caude, Secretary General, PIANC

10:50-11:30 FREIGHT AND LONG-DISTANCE TRANSPORT

This sequence will showcase the plans and the progress achieved by initiatives regarding the long-distance transport (rail, aviation,...) and freight. It will also detail which measures on policy, finance and technology can be taken by governments and other stakeholders (including the business sector) to further transform the sector in line with a 1.5/2°C trajectory.

Green freight initiatives

- Maria Amparo Martinez Arroyo, General Director, INECC, Mexico
- Ahmed Aboutaleb, Mayor of Rotterdam, The Netherlands

Aviation

- Olumuyiwa Bernard Aliu, President, ICAO Council
